

The FDLP Desktop features categories that display news regarding the Federal Depository Library Program. All news regarding the Program is categorized into one of five categories:

1.

General Announcements

2. Cataloging
3. Distribution
4. Events
5. Partnerships

Each of these categories appears on the homepage in its own container and loads articles as they are released. Articles appear on the homepage in date descending order and drop off based on the viewing preferences of the user, based on a Web browser's cookies.

There are two ways to customize the displayed news based on each user's personal use of the data:

1. Reorder the Categories: At the top right of each category container is a move icon. Click and drag the icon to move the container up or down in the list.

How do I customize the homepage news?

Move Icon

The screenshot shows a web interface with two main sections: 'Distribution' and 'General Announcements'. Each section has a 'Display' dropdown menu with options 0, 5, 10, and 15, followed by the word 'Articles'. A red circle highlights a plus icon in the top right corner of the 'Distribution' section header. Below the 'Distribution' section, there are two columns of news articles. The left column is titled 'Latest News Articles' and the right column is titled 'Other Articles'. The 'Distribution' section is currently set to display 15 articles.

display. On the right side of the page, there is a 'News Directory' link. At the bottom of the page, there is a horizontal bar with a 'Home' link.

Article # Selector

The screenshot shows the same web interface as before, but with red circles highlighting the '0' and '15' options in the 'Display' dropdown menus. A red arrow points from the 'Article # Selector' text to the '15' option in the 'Distribution' dropdown. The 'Distribution' section is currently set to display 15 articles. Below the 'Distribution' section, there are two columns of news articles. The left column is titled 'Latest News Articles' and the right column is titled 'Other Articles'. The 'Distribution' section is currently set to display 15 articles.

After clicking on the 'Home' link, it can be found via the "News Directory", which can be
